

ATTENTION SENIORS! READ THIS NOW

Isn't it great? You are finally a CHS Senior! We will want to make the year very memorable for you. Graduation ceremonies provide a fitting climax to 13 years of school and recognition of your future plans and all seniors are encouraged to participate. Commencement is not just for you, it is also for the people who mean the most to you. However, participating in senior activities, including the graduation ceremonies, is entirely voluntary. You are not required to attend Commencement exercises to receive your diploma. You may choose to pick it up following the Commencement date.

If you plan to participate, you must order a cap and gown. There will be an announcement when Herff-Jones will be here to distribute order forms for cap and gown and other items, such as open house announcements, thank-you notes, and memory albums. Announcements are not required and even if you do want them, they need not be purchased from this supplier. Keep in mind that this supplier specializes in announcements especially designed by your class officers.

The Commencement ceremony will recognize your accomplishments as well as congratulate your family. We will want to plan a fitting ceremony to honor each graduate, the Class of 2017, and Chesterton High School. Therefore, your former teachers and administrators will be asked to join you. Your class senators will start planning soon, so share with them your suggestions.

As seniors, you will want to plan and to participate in several special events this year. Your elected class senators will be given the responsibility of determining, with your help, the type of activities to offer. Decisions will need to be made about such things as senior t-shirts, class motto, class flower, class song, commencement, and senior banquet. Share with your class senators your opinions about special senior activities. Nothing can happen unless you get involved.

SENIOR CLASS SENATORS: Andrew Davison, Alex Devereaux, Lennon Metz, Marie O'Neill, Erik Ralph, Luke Sebring
